Invitation to Host the iwCLL 2021 Biennial Meeting

The iwCLL Biennial Meeting focuses solely on advancing the understanding and treatment of chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL) and related lymphoproliferative disorders. Founded in 1979, it is now the largest international meeting dedicated to advancing state-of-the-art and emerging concepts – from laboratory-based research to the clinic – in the pathobiology and treatment of these blood cancers. The Biennial Meeting which attracts around 1200 delegates from over 40 countries is intended to provide a forum that promotes the exchange of information and encourages collaboration among international leaders and scientists interested in CLL and lymphoproliferative disorders.

The iwCLL is now actively seeking applications from parties interested in hosting the 2021 Biennial Meeting.

Prospective hosts are invited to read the Information and Instructions to Host the 2021 Biennial Meeting and Appendices.

Applications should be submitted by email to the iwCLL Chairperson (iwclloffice@gmail.com) by 28 June 2019 at 17:00 CET. This is a firm deadline so that the iwCLL Scientific Board is in a position to make the final selection and advertise the date and location at the XVIII iwCLL Meeting in Edinburgh, Scotland. No extensions to the deadline will be given. The successful host will be informed by 31 August 2019.

Please note that the iwCLL does not accept applications from potential hosts from remote areas of the world. This is due to difficulties in securing industry support, flight costs for the major scientific contributors and the costs to delegates attending. The iwCLL does however hold regional conferences in remote areas of the world. Please contact the iwCLL Secretariat Office if you are interested in holding a regional conference.

Any questions relating to the application process should be directed to the iwCLL Secretariat Office iwclloffice@gmail.com
